

November 26, 2024

Dear Jeremy Paruch,

Please accept this as a letter of participation for competing in this year's Challenge Nova Scotia event.

This letter also recognizes that you have completed the NSCC Academic Integrity training required to compete in the competition.

Don Bureaux has called on students at NSCC to develop a solution to a social issue facing the province. Each year's challenge is influenced by the One Nova Scotia Coalition's Report: We Choose Now - a Playbook for Nova Scotians and the United Nations 17 Sustainable Development Goals.

The intent of Challenge Nova Scotia is to draw on the energy, creativity, and entrepreneurial minds of NSCC students to build a vibrant future for Nova Scotia. Students are given 12 hours to solve the problem and create a 90-second video outlining their solution.

Challenge Nova Scotia allows participants to demonstrate their ingenuity, acumen, and leadership as they work together towards a common objective.

If the future of our province depends on the ambition and drive of our Challenge Nova Scotia participants, then I think we'll be in good hands.

Sincerely,

Andrew Lafford
Vice-President Academic